Submission guidelines

Please e-mail sketches and swatches for your ideas to rhian@tailormadepublishing.co.uk
Please use the following as the subject line of your email: "Submissions..." and then the issue you are submitting to, plus a name/description of your submission so we can find each project easily.

Please send as a PDF or Word doc with a separate document for each submission where possible, ensuring each submission has at least one sketch and swatch so that we can visualise the final project. The colours/yarns do not need to be correct, these can change. Please also submit a simple schematic with measurements where possible.

You can include a mood board or inspirational images if you use them to help us understand what your final design will be like.

Tell us what yarn you envisioned using, but understand that it may have to change. We need a short narrative about your design, i.e. who do you imagine wearing it or using it? How and why? How is it constructed? Any difficult techniques which may need special notes or step by steps?

This is the time for creative thinking – pull out those sketches you've been dreaming about, but haven't had a place to submit. We're looking for innovative, fashionable ideas that don't necessarily have to be your standard crochet fare.

If you've designed before, but not for us, we'd like to hear a little more about your work; please provide links or photos of your previous designs.

Alternatively, if you have a ready made design you wish to submit, please do so, we may take it as it is, or ask you to remake in a new yarn/colour.

What happens next?

If we accept your proposal, we will work with you on the design and payment details, and then send you a contract along with our style guide, an outline of which sizes to include and a due date for the completed projects.

How will you be compensated?

Fees for a project depends on its complexity. You will also retain full copyright of your work, and may re-publish or re-sell as soon as three months after the initial publication date of the project.

Please note that the information contained with this submissions call is confidential and only to be used for submission of designs to Inside Crochet.
